What is Your Purpose in 2019?

by Pam Meier, MAEMSP President

The new year provides a convenient time for us as leaders to reflect, both as an opportunity to appreciate the progress that has been made throughout the year and also to identify goals to help us, our staffs and our school communities continue growing personally, professionally and collectively.

With this said, the recent passing of our 41st President, George H. W. Bush, provided the Nation a collective opportunity to reflect upon him both as an individual and as an elected official. Hearing the numerous tributes given by former colleagues, friends and adversaries provided some deeper insight into the importance of Servant Leadership and the lasting impact it can have on those around someone embodying the attributes of a servant leader.

Oftentimes, elected officials are judged by the number of consecutive terms for which they served or the landmark policies or legislation they championed. However, in the case of President George H. W. Bush, most of the tributes from former world or national leaders focused on his attention to the needs of others at the expense of his, even if it eventually cost him a re-election. In an interview prior to his death, he attributed his focus on service to others as a result of his life being spared in a plane crash in World War 2. Two of his crewmates perished in that crash, which haunted him daily for the entirety of his life - why was he spared? What was his purpose?

He concluded that the answer would be found in service to others around him, including his country. Not everyone has to be drawn to politics to find a way to serve others. I would venture to say that most, if not all, of us were drawn into education by our deep desire to make a difference in the lives of others, be it the children or staffs in our buildings or the community we serve through our roles in education.

In 1997, he wrote:

“I have pursued life itself for many years now with varying degrees of happiness. Some of my happiness still comes from trying to be in my own small way a true point of light. I believe...there can be no definition of a successful life that does not include service to others. I do not seek a Pulitzer Prize. I do not want press attention. I don’t crave sitting at the head table or winning a coveted award...”

I hope as we move into 2019, we can all take a moment to reflect not only on what we've accomplished but more importantly how much more there is left to do in our service to others. Our leadership most importantly provides opportunities to serve as positive leadership examples through our actions in service to others. While the intent of our actions may not always be appreciated by others, I hope we can be sure that those intentions are in the spirit of service. So to leverage a phrase made famous by former President Bush, I hope as fellow members of MAEMSP we can all serve as a “thousand points of light” in the many ways we serve our students, staffs and communities.

Happy 2019!

Happy New Year! 2019 promises to be a fine year for SAM and our members as we work together to make a positive difference in the education of our students! The promise on the horizon anticipates excellent professional learning opportunities for our members, a deep dive into advocacy with our SAM advocacy priorities at the forefront, and continued effort of our administrators all across the state to participate fully in the work that impacts the education of our children. The three goals of the SAM Strategic Plan provide focus for this important work...

Leadership Involved in Decisions that Impact Education: SAM affiliate members modeling and promoting the highest levels of professionalism, integrity, and leadership actively engage in impactful discussions on education.

Advocacy: SAM members will be equipped with accurate information and prepared to use it to advocate for public education.

Professional Learning and Services: SAM will extend and expand the professional learning delivery system using the expertise of the SAM affiliate’s, as well as other service providers through professional development, mentorship, and other member services.

Thank you SAM members for your participation and contributions to your professional association, SAM. Our collective effort around the strategic plan goals will lead us to the promise of an outstanding 2019!

Happy New Year to you from your team at SAM!
