

Professional Bio: Dr. Mark Wilson

Mark Wilson was a teacher, a coach, and then a principal. Now, he teaches and coaches principals.

Dr. Wilson is in his twelfth year of supporting leaders full time. He publishes Principal Matters!, a national leadership newsletter and teaches classes, coaches, consults, and helps school leaders lead schools. He is the author of What They Didn't Teach You in Fancy Principal School and the co-author of the book One: A Plan for Success for Every One and Everyone,

While he was the Principal of Morgan County High School in Madison, GA, the good work of his teachers, students, and their parents led to his selection as the NASSP National High School Principal of the Year.
