

Professional Bio: Joe Frohlich

Joe Frohlich serves as a Cybersecurity State Coordinator for Montana, Region 8 (UT, CO, MT, WY, ND, SD) of the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) in the Department of Homeland Security. He is based out of Helena. CISA works with public and private partners to defend against today's threats and build more secure and resilient infrastructure for the future. The CISA Cybersecurity Advisor program includes promoting cyber resilience through various engagements and performing risk and resilience-based assessments.

Professional Bio: Burke Honzel

Burke Honzel is the Preparedness Bureau Chief for Montana Disaster and Emergency Services. He was born and raised in Helena, served in the US ARMY and has worked for MT DES for the past nine and a half years. In his position, Burke oversees the Preparedness Grants Program, Planning and Assessments Section and the Training and Exercise Section.

Professional Bio: Andy Hanks

Andy Hanks is a cybersecurity executive with over twenty-five years of experience in information technology, including fifteen years focused on information security, regulatory compliance, and data privacy. As Senior Director of Cybersecurity Advisory Services for the Center for Internet Security, Andy oversees a program to help cyber-underserved State, Local,

Tribal, and Territorial governments and election offices develop their security strategy and enhance their security posture. Andy previously held positions as Chief Information Security Officer for the State of Montana and Global Security Program Manager for IBM. He earned a Master of Science degree in information systems from Drexel University, holds multiple cybersecurity certifications, and is a graduate of the FBI CISO Academy. Andy is a cybersecurity thought leader driven by a passion for protecting citizens' data and defending our nation's critical infrastructure.