

Seth Thompson
Senior Systems Engineer, RUCKUS Networks

As a Systems Engineer/Sales Engineer, I specialize in creating enterprise wired and wireless networking solutions for my partners and customers. I provide the business knowledge and technical expertise required to implement networking solutions, evaluate products, and build upon an infrastructure that supports the ever-changing technical needs of my customers. I have 10+ years of experience in the telecom/networking industry, a degree in Environmental Science - Energy & Natural Resources, and an MBA with a concentration in Engineering Management.
