

Professional Bio: Tara Thomas

Tara Thomas is the Policy Analyst at AASA, The School Superintendents Association, where she monitors, evaluates, and influences the legislative and regulatory actions of the federal government. In this role, she represents AASA's advocacy priorities on Capitol Hill including early childhood education, child nutrition, rural education and higher education. She also manages the Advocacy team's member surveys and research.